REPRESENTATIVE HALL TO RESIGN FROM HOUSE

Only Two Democrats From Pennsylvania Left.

ELECTED A STATE SENATOR

Is a Millionaire and Does Not Wish to Draw Two Salaries Next Year.

Representative James K. P. Hall, of the old Twenty-eighth district of Pennsylvania, came to Washington yesterday and announced that he would on December 1 hand to Speaker Henderson his resignation as a member of the House. Mr. Hall is one of the three Democratic members from the Keystone State. Four were elected to the present House in 1900, but the death of Representative Polk last spring reduced the number to three. There will be four Democrats from Pennsylvania in the next House. Mr. Hall was not a candidate for reelection to Congress at the recent election. In redistricting, the State Legislature added several overwhelmingly Republican counties and made it impossible for any Democrat to succeed. Instead, Mr. Hall accepted the nomination for the State Senate and was elected almost without opposition. His salary as State senator will begin on December 1, although his actual service does not begin until January 1. Mr. Hall is a millionaire and does not desire to draw two salaries. Accordingly he will resign from the House.

TEN DEGREES DROP IN TEMPERATURE TONIGHT

Will Come Out of West But Bring No Snow.

It was stated at the Weather Bureau this morning that there will be a drop of from 8 to 10 degrees in the temperature within the next twenty-four hours. It was explained that this is not to be taken as a warning of the approach of a cold wave or storm. It will be colder tonight and tomorrow, but the indications are that the weather will be clear. In this connection it was also said at the Weather Bureau that westerly winds will prevail in this section. These winds, however, it is said, will bring no snow to Washington even the fagged-out end of the snowstorm which visited the West and Northwest yesterday. The snowstorm, it is said, has already expended itself. The fall in the temperature will begin about midnight, and will be gradual, descending 10 degrees before midnight tomorrow.

QUARANTINE AGAINST NEW ENGLAND CATTLE

Foot-and-Mouth Disease Appears — Four States Put Under Ban by Secretary Wilson.

Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture today issued the following orders: "To the Managers and Agents of Railroads and Transportation Companies of the United States, Stockmen, and others: "In accordance with section 7, of the act of Congress approved May 29, 1884, entitled, 'An act for the establishment of a Bureau of Animal Industry, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle, and to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia, and other contagious diseases among domestic animals,' and with the act of Congress approved June 3, 1902, making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, you are hereby notified that the contagious disease known as foot-and-mouth disease exists among animals in the States of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Vermont, and that the cattle, sheep, and swine of said States have been exposed to the contagion of said disease. Therefore:

Violators to Be Punished.

"It is hereby ordered that, to prevent the spread of the said disease from the States of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Vermont into other States or foreign countries, and to aid in its eradication, no cattle, sheep, or other ruminants or swine shall be moved or permitted to move from or across the territory of any one of the States above named into any other State or foreign country. Any person, company, or corporation violating this order will be proceeded against as provided for by the act of Congress above referred to.

"It is hoped that all transportation companies, cattle shippers, and others interested in the welfare of our animal industry will co-operate with the Department of Agriculture in enforcing this order, to the end that the restriction on traffic may have the desired effect and be removed in the shortest possible time. JAMES WILSON, Secretary."

"Whereas a highly contagious disease known as foot-and-mouth disease exists among cattle in the State of Massachusetts, and the routes of transportation possible may have been contaminated, and in order to protect the export trade in live animals by preventing the exportation of animals which are diseased or which have been exposed to disease; "It is hereby ordered, that no cattle, sheep, or other ruminants shall be permitted to be exported from the port of Boston until further orders. "JAMES WILSON, Secretary."

Secretary Wilson commenting on his action, said: "The rumor that New England cattle were suffering from the foot-and-mouth disease reached the department last week.

No Question as to Existence.

"Dr. Mohler, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, was ordered to investigate the existing conditions. In order to make certain that the disease had secured a foothold in these States I secured the services of Dr. Pearson, of Philadelphia, the head of the veterinary department of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. James Law, of Cornell. The reports of these gentlemen were received this morning and were identical in declaring that the disease had attacked the cattle in these States. I immediately issued quarantine orders and closed the port of Boston against the exportation of cattle. How the disease was introduced I do not know, neither am I aware of its extent. The department will spare no expense or energy in having the disease stamped out."

MATRIMONIAL EDICT NO. 2 MAKES NEW EXCITEMENT

Fear Among Mr. Payne's Women Clerks That All With Husbands Must Go.

The Postmaster General's order declining to reappoint women clerks of the department should they change their names by marriage on or after December 1 created consternation among those who had arranged to get married in the near future. The effect of the order was most noticeable at the office of the clerk of the court, who issues marriage certificates. A number of those who were on the brink of matrimony concluded that they might as well get married before the day when Mr. Payne's order goes into operation, so that it would not affect them, and the list of marriage licenses yesterday was almost the longest on record.

Even this plan, however, may be doomed to failure. A. W. Machen, General Superintendent of the Rural Free Delivery, yesterday requested each married woman clerk in his division to send him a written statement setting forth the name of her husband and his occupation if not in the Government service. This additional request caused much talk and some excitement among

Mr. Machen's clerks on the theory that it has in view the discharge from the service of either the husband or wife if both are in the department. This is, of course, a long advance on the Postmaster General's order.

Those women clerks who appear on the pay rolls of the Postoffice Department as married complain that every woman should be requested to answer Mr. Machen's questions, inasmuch as there are a number of them employed in the department who appear as single, but who, in fact, are married. It is said that the next move on the board will be a circular to the men, who also have been slated to answer a question sheet. It is thought that in this manner the department will be enabled to find out how many of the clerks are married and how many of the husbands and wives are entirely supported by Uncle Sam.

There is now very little doubt that the Postoffice Department intends to separate from the service all of those women clerks whose husbands are also in the Government employ.

RAILROAD WAREHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

$175,000 Damage to Property at Omaha, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 27.—Fire which started at midnight destroyed storehouse No. 2 of the Union Pacific Railroad, together with its contents and several freight cars, most of which were loaded with supplies. Purchasing Agent Griffiths said the building contained $150,000 worth of stores, most of which consisted of castings, iron pipe and other heavy material. The building is burned to the ground, which brings the total loss to $175,000. The new shops were not damaged.

Officials of the railroad express the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin.

OUT-OF-TOWN BATTLES FOR GRIDIRON SUPREMACY

Cornell-Pennsylvania Last of Big Teams.

VIRGINIA-NORTH CAROLINA

Johns Hopkins Meets University of Maryland in Annual Contest—Navy Plebes Will Tackle Dunham.

OUT-OF-TOWN SCHEDULE.

At Philadelphia—University of Pennsylvania vs. Cornell University. At Easton, Pa.—Dickinson vs. Lafayette. At New York—Columbia vs. Syracuse. At Chester, Pa.—St. John's College vs. Pennsylvania Military Academy. At Annapolis, Md.—Dunham's Latin School vs. Navy Plebes. At Norfolk, Va.—Virginia Military Institute vs. Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The last really big football game of the season except the Army-Navy game at Philadelphia Saturday will be that of today between the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania will attempt to redeem her disastrous season in the annual struggle with Cornell. The Quakers' showing has been unusually poor this year, and every effort has been made to whip the eleven into shape to win today. The players have been spending the last few days in the mountains of Pennsylvania, near Stroudsburg, and are much improved from a physical standpoint.

Following is the line-up:

VIRGINIA-NORTH CAROLINA

AFTER SOUTHERN TROPHY RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 27.—The old Virginia capital is filled with followers of Virginia and Carolina to witness the great battle to be fought on the gridiron today for the football championship of the South. Both teams arrived in the city yesterday in fine trim for the game, and the captains and coaches of both express their confidence of winning the championship.

Even money is bet that North Carolina will not score. The teams will line up as follows:

Va. Positions. N. C. Daniel, '05, left end... Cox Johnson, '05, left tackle... Jones Houston, '05, left guard... F. J. Foust Bachman, Waters, center... Stewart Spates, '05, right guard... ### JOHNS HOPKINS TO MEET UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—To many the most interesting athletic event of today will be the football game this afternoon at American League Park by the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland. This Thanksgiving Day game for several years has been the most important football contest in the schedules of both the Baltimore varsities.

NAVY PLEBES TO TACKLE DUNHAM'S LATIN SCHOOL

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—The football team of Dunham's Latin School, which won the interscholastic State championship by defeating the Marston last Friday, will play the Naval Academy "plebes" this afternoon. The Latin School team was gravely crippled in the game with the Marston, several of the mainstays will not be in the game. The "plebes" have won every game that they have played, and their work has been very convincing to the coaches of the "Middies" big team who are thinking of the future.

Dunham's has not been scored against and has run up 151 points in seven games. Both teams have shut out the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute.

MIDSHIPMEN READY FOR GAME AGAINST THE ARMY

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 27.—The football team of the United States Naval Academy had yesterday afternoon its last regular practice game before leaving here for Philadelphia to meet West Point.

Tomorrow morning the team, under Lieutenant Commander Halsey, will leave here for Philadelphia, and in the afternoon will practice on Franklin field.

No one here takes much stock in the report coming from West Point of sick and injured players. The "Middies" expect to face West Point's strongest men, but every man seems sure of the team's ability to be at the army.

Very few people here, however, are betting on the result except as to the points by each, but money that Navy won't score is quickly taken.

DAY OF THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON HOMES

Generous Hands Make the Day One of Rejoicing for City's Poor—Free Dinners at Central Union Mission.

Rarely in the history of the country has the feeling of thanksgiving been so general throughout the land as today, and nowhere has the prosperity which has brought peace and plenty to the homes of millions of people been more generally felt than here in the Nation's Capital. This feeling has resulted in more generous remembrance of the poor than ever, and for the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitants those who dispense good things to cheer the sick and the indigent have been able to give in measure punning over and have storerooms still filled with everything that goes to make a plentiful Thanksgiving feast.

Dinners Free for All.

The greatest interest of the day centered in the work of the many organizations which cared for those who, through misfortune, were compelled to accept of outside assistance. It did not remain for these brothers in humanity to seek assistance, as during the past weeks hundred of Christian men and women have been seeking out those to whom aid could be properly be given. Every name that was suggested was placed upon the lists prepared by the Central Union Mission people, and the agents of the Associated Charities.

It was at the big building of the former organization, on Louisiana Avenue, that the work of relief centered. There, throughout the day the scenes of the most touching character were enacted. Those in charge stated that never in their experience had the donations been so large, and the number of those urgently in need so few.

All restrictions were cast aside, and all who were in need were served without regard to their apparent worthiness. Over $600 was spent for turkeys and chickens, which loaded the carrying tables and filled the 500 baskets that were sent out. Each of these baskets also contained sugar, coffee, tea, cereals, vegetables, cranberries, and other supplies necessary and luxuries of life.

FAMILY OBSERVANCE OF DAY AT WHITE HOUSE

The President's Thanksgiving a Quiet One.

Thanksgiving was celebrated at the White House as a family holiday, entirely apart from any official duties. All the members of the family except Miss Alice went out riding or driving this morning. General Wood accompanied the President. The latter kept no office hours at the Executive offices today.

Kermit is the only member of the family not at home. He is at Groton, spending the day with friends.

Tonight a family party will gather around the dinner board. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, of New York, are at the White House for a short visit. Mr. Robinson is the President's sister.

Baren and Baroness von Sternburg and Mr. and Mrs. Strachey, of London, have left the White House.

ANDREW CARNEGIE ABLE TO SIT UP IN HIS ROOM

Suffering With Intestinal Indigestion, Caused by Over-Exertion and Fatigue.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Andrew Carnegie was able to sit up today. He expects to be able to sail for New York in a week.

Mrs. Carnegie told a representative of the "Pall Mall Gazette" that her husband was suffering from intestinal indigestion. There was some obstruction, which the physicians think was caused by overexertion and fatigue.

NEGRO CATERER'S HOME FILLED WITH PLUNDER

The Marlborough Apartment House Rooms Looted.

Haywood Carter, caterer to Capt. Patrick and Reynolds and Lieut. Gibson, army officers who have apartments at the Marlborough, Eighteenth Street, was arrested this morning charged with stealing articles aggregating in value several hundred dollars from the various suites of rooms in the apartment house. Many of the articles missing were found in Carter's quarters.

Carter is a young colored man, and is a son of Thomas Carter, said to be an employee of Senator Hanna. His wife is a beautiful young Mexican woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gough are the complainants. They recently returned from their wedding tour, and were furnishing apartments at the Marlborough, though residing temporarily in another part of the city. Several valuable articles, including a costly oriental rug, were missed on Tuesday, and suspicion pointed to an employee about the building. It was found that someone had a duplicate key to the main door of the suite. Detective Lacy traced the thefts to Carter, and this morning the negro was arrested by Detective Baur.

The prisoner alleges that he bought the articles found at his home, corner of Fourteenth Street and Florida Avenue, from a man whose name he does not remember. At Police Headquarters he revealed the whereabouts of several of the articles.

Among the things stolen from the apartments to Mr. and Mrs. Gough, besides the rug mentioned, were valuable picture frames and a large number of smaller wedding presents. Two gold watches, a fine kodak, and a lot of silverware, apparently parts of sets from dining cars and steamboats, were found in Carter's home.

Both Teams Trained to the Hour for Mighty Gridiron Struggle on the University Campus This Afternoon.

Success of Old Dominion Rivals Over Redskins at Norfolk Puts Ginger Into the Home Team's Playing.

Field in Excellent Condition for Contest, and Mass of People Line Gridiron to Urge on Blue and Gray.

Thousands of people are on the Georgetown campus this afternoon to witness this mighty struggle for gridiron supremacy between the eleven of old Georgetown, and the team from the Carlisle Indian school.

It is an ideal football day, and the struggle, which commences at 2:30 o'clock bids fair to be a memorable one in local football history.

In view of the defeat of the Indians at Norfolk last Saturday by the crack eleven from the University of Virginia, who are old-time rivals of the Georgetown boys, it is expected that today's battle will be one of the fiercest ever fought on the local field. Georgetown will strain every nerve to equal and go on better the score of the Virginians, against the Indians, and thus stand on a par with them, as the athletic relations are such that they cannot lock horns with their old-time rivals in an effort for supremacy.

The Georgetown football eleven assembled upon the campus for their last practice yesterday afternoon. Although the field was rather wet and soggy, the cold wind that swept across it had dried it considerably, and today it is in good condition for the fiercest contest of the year. The varsity team was full of ginger, and the plays were sent off fast and orderly, while later on the scrub team used the style of playing peculiar to the Indians, and the varsity practiced breaking up the different formations.

Last night Barton's Hotel was the scene of a little temporary excitement, as Coach Warner led his seventeen stalwart Indian braves into the lobby, and for a while the husky red men were the center of general interest. When, instead of the warlike appearing braves some had expected, a company of well-dressed young men, properly tailored and groomed, came down to dinner, many remarks of admiration were heard upon all sides.

The game will not be a walkover for either team, and every yard either team gains will be strenuously contested.

The Georgetown field today.

Mr. Young, of Cornell, will referee, and Mr. Armstrong, of Yale, will pipe. The time of halves will be limited, thirty-five minutes each.

AGED COUPLE BURNED TO DEATH AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 27.—Benjamin Watson and his wife Elizabeth, an aged couple, were last night burned to death in a fire in their home in Maitland Court. The origin of the fire is unknown, but as the remains of a lamp were found near Mrs. Watson's body, it is believed she fell downstairs with it and that it exploded or took fire.

Mr. Watson was ill in bed and was unable to move. He was probably suffocated. Mrs. Watson's body was horribly burned.
